To whom it may concern,

We used Jorgenson Company when we moved our distribution center to a new location. They were instrumental in helping with the layout of the racking, along with being reliable and easy to work with. We purchased new and used racking and I am completely satisfied with the quality of the product and installation. The workers were timely, efficient and a pleasure to work with. I would recommend that if you have any equipment or racking needs to give Jorgenson Company a call.
